

Are there seats in the class I want?

The best way to find out if there are seats in a class is to access the application program for your student category, complete your student profile, and then click on Prepare Application, Apply for Training, or words to that effect. Each service has a different label. Below is a sample from the DoD application program.

The image displays two screenshots of the ACQTAS (Acquisition Training Application System) web application. The first screenshot shows the main menu with a sidebar on the left containing various user functions. A red circle highlights the 'Apply for Training' link, with a callout box labeled '1'. A yellow callout box labeled '2' points to the 'Apply for Training' link in the sidebar. A red callout box labeled '3' points to the 'Search for classes of that course' text in the second screenshot. A red callout box labeled '4' points to the 'Go to next slide' text at the bottom of the page.

1 Apply for Training

2 Identify the course you want

3 Search for classes of that course

4 Go to next slide

Are there seats in the class I want?

These columns tell you how many seats are available and how many waits are already in the system.
